MENDOCINO BANK CASE.

The Tangled Mass of Litigation at Last Settled.

Doings in the Local Courts Briefly Reported—Series of Social Events in Ukiah—The Dance at Hopland.

Judge Crump of Lake county has been engaged during the greater part of the week in hearing the case of Andrew Henderson vs Bank of Mendocino and its directors, consisting of charges against the board of directors of the Bank of Mendocino. Some time ago a number of suits were pressed against the bank for the appointment of a receiver. These were all decided in favor of the bank. Finally one of the depositors filed charges through his attorneys against the directors and asked for their removal. The trial was long and interesting, and resulted in a complete vindication of the bank directors. Judge Crump decided that there was no evidence whatever to sustain the charges. The bank commissioners testified to the efforts of the directors to dispose of the property, and it was developed at the trial that the depositors who were attacking the directors had been preventing all acts on their part by various suits. Judge Crump therefore dismissed all charges against the board. The result will be that about $45,000 in sales which have been tied up by suits brought by certain depositors will now be distributed by the directors in dividends. McGarvey & Bledsoe appeared for the depositor who filed the charges against the bank and McNab & Hirsch conducted the case for the Bank of Mencino and its directors.

What is the cost of good and sufficient fences along the line of the proposed railroad through the land of defendants? Answer, $250.

How many cattleguards will be necessary where fences may cross the line of plaintiff's proposed railroad? Answer, two.

PIMPLES

And other eruptions which mar the skin are more than a disfigurement and annoyance; they are a positive detriment to the business interests and social successes of the man they mark. Other things being equal, the man with a smooth skin and clear complexion will find it easier to get a good position or a good wife than the man whose face shows the impurity of his blood. That's the real point. The blood is bad. And for that very reason any treatment which is designed to cleanse the skin must cleanse the blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cleanses the blood from the clogging impurities which breed and feed disease, and so cures pimples, boils, eczema, and other diseases which have their cause in impure blood.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

"I have used your 'Golden Medical Discovery' in a case of scrofula, and cured it," writes Mr. Wm. D. Shamblin, of Remy, Cherokee Nation, Ind. Territory. "I took five bottles of it for my blood. I had 'ringworms' on me and I would burn them off and they would come right back, and they were on me when I commenced using 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which took them away, and I haven't been bothered anymore."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cleanse the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

Nature's Destiny In Niagara Falls.

The waterfall at Niagara opened an economic drama by damming up the main waterway of the northern states. But for the innavigable rapids and whirlpool of the Niagara and but for the falls Governor Clinton would doubtless have ended his ditch digging originally planned to connect New York city with the fur yielding red man's lands of the upper lakes at Oswego and saved a hundred miles and more of costly construction. In that case Oswego and not Buffalo would have become the sixth commercial city in the world. But the falls were long of vision, they had set their hearts on larger things than even DeWitt Clinton dared fancy; they foresaw the growth of the west and resolved upon seizing for their own purpose the swollen bulk of traffic which must soon be tided eastward. Shrewd strategy, was it not?—Scribner's.

Reason For Growling.

The farmer had told the tramp to search the shed for some cold biscuit.

"But don't strike a light," warned the farmer. "I won't risk having the place burned down."

"Then I can't look for de biscuit, boss," said the tramp.

"Why not?"

"Well, de last time I searched in de dark I ate a lot of dog biscuits an got de hydrophobia from hearin meself bark."—Chicago News.

A Good Breakfast.

A good breakfast is the physical basis of a day's work, says The Medical Brief. The American breakfast, regarded with so much horror on the European continent, has contributed largely to make the nation what it is today. It enabled our forefathers to do an amount of work which it appalls foreigners to contemplate.

Stop the Blight

It is a sad thing to see fine fruit trees spoiled by the blight. You can always tell them from the rest. They never do well afterwards but stay small and sickly.

It is worse to see a blight strike children. Good health is the natural right of children. But some of them don't get their rights. While the rest grow big and strong one stays small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion can stop that blight. There is no reason why such a child should stay small. Scott's Emulsion is a medicine with lots of strength in it—the kind of strength that makes things grow.

Scott's Emulsion makes children grow, makes them eat, makes them sleep, makes them play. Give the weak child a chance. Scott's Emulsion will make it catch up with the rest.

This picture represents the Trade Mark of Scott's Emulsion and is on the wrapper of every bottle.

He is about cured of rheumatism, and says he will again fast until completely cured.

Captain J. C. Voss and A. K. Luxton, the Canadians who sailed from Vancouver early in July for a voyage round the world in an Indian dugout canoe, arrived in good health at Apia Oct. 10, having traveled in that time a distance of 6,400 miles. They took a supply of provisions and water and then set sail for Sydney by way of Fiji.

W. H. Brundidge, a real estate man of San Jose, Cal., and his wife, had a narrow escape from death by ptomaine poisoning, occasioned by the eating of canned salmon. They were seized with violent pains, and it was only by the prompt application of remedies by a physician that they were relieved.

Brains and Hands.

The brain of a great man remains in fine working order long after his hands, directed by that brain, have lost their deftness. That is one of the curious things of life. There are plenty of instances of men who have reached the allotted age of life continuing in the activities of the world as long as those activities are of the brain and not of the hand.

But the mechanic's highest skill is shown when he is between the ages of 30 and 40. After the latter age his hand loses its cunning, but if his brain has been taught to work he can continue to labor and may even surpass the earning power of his hand. After 40 the muscles do not respond nearly as certainly and readily to the orders and the willingness of the brain, and a man's handwork begins to fall off in its earning capacity.

Yet in the case of the brain it is only after 40 that it really begins its best work—the work that endures and is called famous long after the man has ceased to be.—New York Press.

An Elder Brother.

Mr. Bellenden Ker was wont to say that it was astonishing how far back two long lives set end to end could take you, and, as a case in point, used to relate the following incident which had occurred in a will case in which he had been engaged: A witness, a very old man, was asked if he had any brother or sisters. He gave the amazing reply that he had had one brother who had died "a hundred and fifty years ago." A murmur of incredulity traversed the whole court, from the bench downward, which was changed to something like stupefaction when documentary evidence was brought in proof of the old man's words. His father had married at the age of 19 and had had a son, who died the same year. He married again at the age of 75 and had another son, the witness, who was 94 when he gave his evidence.—Cornhill.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

The State W. C. T. U. Convention was lately held in the city of Stockton in the home of that union which was given them by the late W. P. Miller, a man of unquestioned integrity and strong prohibition principles, and his estimable wife.

Miller memorial hall was made beautiful by the deft hands of the decorating committee, and Monday evening it was well filled with the best citizens of Stockton and its local W. C. T. U. who had gathered to receive the white ribbon women from different localities of our state. Hearty, earnest words of welcome and good cheer were extended to the many officers and delegates by the clergy, and the educators. The staunch young mayor, George Catts, who was there in person, not by proxy, and publicly announced his temperance principles and encouraged the W. C. T. U. to continue in the fight against the saloon. Mrs. Harry of Stockton gave the welcome for the entertaining union and Mrs. Washburn, national lecturer, responded to these addresses in a very graceful manner.

Several musical selections were enjoyed, and the rest of the evening was agreeably spent in greetings and sociability.

This convention was notable for many things—its large number of representatives, the many strong, scholarly addresses, filled with forcible and convincing arguments, the new method of department roporting, which amused as well as entertained, the excellent music, principally by the ladies' quartet, the hot weather, the abundance of fans freely supplied, the bountiful and excellent free lunches served every day, the lovely souvenirs given generously to all delegates, the invitations to visit the chamber of commerce and city hall, and the unlimited hospitality of the people.

Then, we learned from reports that the state treasurer had a balance of $100 on hand, and the Ensign manager had a balance of $70 on hand. Such events had never happened before, but we would like to establish a like precedent. Six thousand men and boys in the state have taken the anti-tobacco pledge, until they are 21 years old. Five hundred out of 700 boys in night school in San Francisco have taken this pledge also.

Another remarkable happening was six representatives from Mendocino county, all from the coast. We regret sincerely that we did not meet some of our valley sisters and co-workers there.

On the program was a number called, "Some of those who help to make the wheels go round," and at the appointed time the county presidents were called to to the platform, greatly puzzled as to what they had done to be called up before the large audience, but their trembling surprise was changed to pleasure and astonishment when each received from the unions of her county a little appropriate gift in acknowledgement of her freely given services.

Mrs. Lizzie Ross Miller received a lovely fountain pen with a half inch gold band engraved, "Mendocino County W. C. T. U." She was thoroughly surprised but not struck speechless.

Mendocino county was overwhelmed with the honor of bringing home the Ensign banner given for the largest increase of subscriptions according to our membership. It is a silk flag. The proceeds of our Ensign Tea won this for us, and Mendocino City union holds it. Won't some other union in the county work for it the coming year?

One of the particularly bright, witty and telling numbers on the program was Mrs. Miller's humorous poem, "The chiefs in council." This brought round after round of applause, until Mrs. Miller requested the audience to desist. We hope a little later to publish this gem.

Mrs. Peet received 110 votes out of 157, and with moistened eye and tender voice thanked the smiling ladies with the waving white handkerchiefs, who for the thirteenth time was made the chief executive of this grand organization of California.

We are glad that it was our privilege to meet and mingle with this gathering of noble, intelligent, consecrated women for one short week, and feel that our lives will be blest by coming in contact with them.

IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Hon. Luke E. Wright, senior member of the Philippine commission after Governor Taft, has been appointed by President Roosevelt vice-governor of the islands.

Fourteen warships are maintaining a strict blockade of the island of Samar, but in spite of this fact supplies still reach the insurgents. Most of this work is done during dark nights by small boats from the island of Leyte.

Lieutenant William C. Harlee, United States Marine Corps, on a wharf in Manila recently, directed a Filipino boy to take up and carry his gripsack. The boy could not speak English, so did not understand the order, and moved off. The lieutenant thought this insolent and proceeded to thrash the boy with his walking-stick. For this he was tried by court martial, found guilty and suspended from duty for three months, with loss of half pay, and is to be publicly reprimanded.

Twelve men of Company G, Ninth Infantry, under command of Sergeant Wilford, who had been sent from Bassy to San Antonio, island of Samar, to investigate and report in regard to the number of bolomen in the vicinity, were attacked by 140 insurgents, who killed two of the soldiers and wounded two others. Wilford remained cool during the attack and the survivors praise his conduct. Captain Bookmiller of Company G recommends Wilford for a medal of honor, and Privates Swanton and Vero for certificates of merit.

Brigadier-General Hughes sent the following to General Chaffee: "The insurrectionary forces in Cebu island have taken the oath of allegiance in good faith. Sixty officers and 400 men have surrendered arms." General Chaffee says "this settles, for the present at least, the disturbance heretofore existing in Cebu."

FOREIGN ITEMS.

Earl Russell and Mrs. Somerville were married recently at the registry office in London.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hanbury, who was born in England June 9, 1793, is dead. Mrs. Hanbury was notable half a century ago in anti-slavery, prison reform and other philanthropic matters. She could see to read and write up to her 100th year.

The strained relations existing between France and Turkey is creating much anxiety, and great preparations are being made. According to dispatches from Toulon, France, all the officers and men of the garrison now on leave of absence have been ordered to rejoin their respective commands immediately. Three transports are preparing to receive troops. The cruisers Du Chayle and Cassard are ready to sail at a moment's notice, and the battle-ships Bouvet and Jaureguiberry are now ready. It is said that the Porte has asked Great Britain to fulfill the terms of the convention of 1878, whereby, in exchange for the island of Cyprus, Great Britain guaranteed the integrity of the sultan's Asiatic possessions.

The Northeastern Railway company of England has ordered of a Chicago manufacturer 20 passenger engines to be used on its line. The locomotives ordered will cost about $320,000, and are of the same type as those that draw the Pennsylvania limited.

IN THE WINTER.

(Benson's Plaster Is Pain's Master.)

For coughs and colds Benson's Porous Plasters are an incomparably better remedy than any other—external or internal. Their medicinal properties enter the skin and go straight to the seat of the disease.

They relieve and cure a "seated" cold without disturbing the system or upsetting the stomach. Cough mixtures often nauseate. Benson's Plasters are medicinal in the highest degree, and quickest to act.

Placed on the chest or back or on both at once in serious cases, the good effect is felt immediately. The congestion yields, the cough abates and the breathing improves.

Lung or bronchial affections or kidney disease, are cured with the least possible suffering and loss of time.

Benson's Plasters are immeasurably superior to Belladonna, Strengthening, Capsicum or any other combination in plaster form. They are also preferable to ointments, liniments and salves.

Benson's Plasters have received fifty-five highest awards over all competitors; and more than 5,000 physicians and druggists have declared them to be one of the few trustworthy household remedies. For sale by all druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on receipt of 25c. each.

Be sure you get the genuine. Accept no imitation or substitute.

Sealing schooners which arrived at Victoria, B. C., bring a story of the escape from capture, by the United States cutter Manning, of three Japanese poachers. The three men were landed, from a Japanese schooner, on the St. Paul rookery for the purpose of clubbing the seals, while the schooner lay off shore awaiting them. The Manning suddenly appeared steaming through the fog, and the schooner disappeared among the small islands, with the Manning in chase. The three Japs then sought out some friendly Aleuts, told a tale of shipwreck and starvation, and were cared for till the arrival of a steamer, which took them to Victoria, whence they were returned to Japan by the Japanese consul.
